OFFICE OF PETITIONS

In re Application of :
Weiner et al. : DECISION ON APPLICATION
Application No. 09/618,380 : FOR
Filed: July 18, 2000 : PATENT TERM ADJUSTMENT
Atty Docket No. 11823-004920US:

This is a decision on the "APPLICATION FOR PATENT TERM ADJUSTMENT UNDER 37 C.F.R. § 1.705" filed October 1, 2007. Applicants submit that the correct determination of patent term adjustment at the time of the mailing of the Notice of Allowance is nine hundred thirty-five (935) days, which applicants maintain is the difference between the total period of PTO examination delay (1,088 days) and the period of applicant delay (153 days).

The application for patent term adjustment is DISMISSED.

For the reasons stated herein, the Office has updated the PAIR screen to reflect that the correct Patent Term Adjustment (PTA) determination at the time of the mailing of the Notice of Allowance is zero (0) days, including 84 days of Office delay and 244 days of applicant delay. A copy of the updated PAIR screen, showing the correct determination, is enclosed.

On July 3, 2007, the Office mailed a Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154(b) in the above-identified application. The Notice stated that the patent term adjustment to date is 0 days. The instant application for patent term adjustment was timely filed¹ after the mailing of the notice of allowance and no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Applicants maintain that the discrepancy between the PTO's determination and applicants' can be traced to a single item related to the alleged abandonment of the application between July 23, 2004 and April 23, 2007, for which no period of PTO delay was assigned. Applicants submit that the delay between July 23, 2004 and April 23, 2007 was due to the PTO's failure to match the issue fee with the file, and subsequent inexplicable further delay in rescinding the holding of abandonment notwithstanding verification of the issue fee payment by February 22, 2005 and applicants' unanswered status requests. Applicants assert that an additional period of adjustment of 1,004 days should be entered for this delay.

Applicants acknowledge that this application is currently subject to a terminal disclaimer.

Applicants' arguments have been considered, but not found persuasive. The grounds for entry of periods of adjustment for examination delay are set forth in 37 CFR 1.702. Those grounds do not include failure to take action within specified time frames in response to the filing of a petition to withdraw the holding of abandonment.

However, with respect to action taken in response to the payment of the issue fee, the relevant section to consider Office delay is 1.702(a)(4). 37 CFR § 1.702(a)(4) provides that:

subject to the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154(b) and this subpart, the term of an original patent shall be adjusted if the issuance of the patent was delayed due to the failure of the Office to issue a patent not later than four months after the date on which the issue fee was paid under 35 U.S.C. 151 and all outstanding requirements were satisfied.

Section 1.703(a)(6) pertains to the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(1)(A)(iv) and § 1.702(a)(4). Section 1.703(a)(6) specifies that: the period is the number of days, if any, beginning on the day after the date that is four months after the date the issue fee was paid and all outstanding requirements were satisfied and ending on the date the patent was issued.

Nonetheless, as stated in the final rule:

the date the issue fee was paid and all outstanding requirements were satisfied is the later of the date the issue fee was paid or the date all outstanding requirements were satisfied. However, if prosecution in an application is reopened after allowance (see MPEP 1308), all outstanding requirements are not satisfied until the application is again in condition for allowance as indicated by the issuance of a new notice of allowance under 35 U.S.C. 151 (see MPEP 1308). See Changes to Implement Patent Term Adjustment under Twenty-Year Patent Term; Final Rule, 65 Fed. Reg. 54366 (September 18, 2000).

In this instance, after the payment of the issue fee (and the granting of the petition), on May 4, 2007, applicants reopened prosecution with the filing of a request for continued examination. Thus, the filing of the issue fee payment on July 23, 2004 is not controlling. A new Notice of Allowance was mailed on July 3, 2007, and the Issue Fee transmittal was again submitted on October 1, 2007.

It is further noted that, with respect to the initial determination of patent term adjustment, the record further reveals that pursuant to 37 CFR 1.704(c)(10), periods of reduction of 113 (not 83) days and 61 days for the filing of two separate requests for continued examination (RCEs) after the mailing of a notice of allowance.

After the mailing of a Notice of Allowance on March 19, 2003 and payment of the issue fee on April 14, 2003, on September 10, 2003, applicants filed a RCE and amendment (and petition to withdraw from issue). The filing of the RCE and amendment after the mailing of the Notice of Allowance constituted a failure to engage pursuant to 37 CFR 1.704(c)(10). This period is 113 days, counting the number of days in the period beginning on September 10, 2003, the date of filing of the RCE and amendment and ending on December 31, 2003, the date of mailing of the Ex Parte Quayle in response.

Likewise, after the mailing of another Notice of Allowance on April 23, 2004 and payment of the issue fee on July 23, 2004, on May 4, 2007, applicants filed a RCE and Information Disclosure Statement (IDS) and amendment and application data sheet and sequence listing (and petition to withdraw from issue). The IDS did not include a § 1.704(d) statement. The filing of the RCE and other papers after the mailing of the Notice of Allowance constituted a failure to engage pursuant to 37 CFR 1.704(c)(10). This period is 61 days, counting the number of days in the period beginning on May 4, 2007, the date of filing of the RCE and other papers and ending on July 3, 2007, the date of mailing of the Notice of Allowance in response.

It is noted that the petition to withdraw holding of abandonment filed February 22, 2005 was filed within 2 months of the mailing of the notice of abandonment on January 20, 2005. As such, there was no "failure to engage" (or applicant delay) within the meaning of 37 CFR 1.704(c)(4).

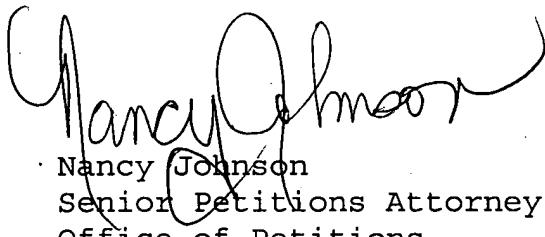

The record is unclear as to whether there should be entered additional periods of reduction for applicant delay associated with omissions in applicants' filing with respect to sequence listings. The reference to 37 CFR 1.135(c) is parenthetical because 37 CFR 1.704(c)(7) is not limited to Office actions under 37 CFR 1.135(c) but applies when the Office issues any action or notice indicating that a reply has an omission which must be corrected: e.g., (1) a decision on a petition under 37 CFR 1.47 dismissing the petition as lacking an item necessary to grant the petition; or (2) a notice indicating that the computer readable format sequence listing filed in reply to a Notice to Comply with Requirements for Patent Applications Containing Nucleotide Sequence and/or Amino Acid Sequence Disclosures (PTO-1661) does not comply with 37 CFR 1.821 et seq. If it is of significance, applicants are under a duty of candor to the Office to advise if in fact such replies with omissions were filed. (It is noted that without regard to any failures to engage pursuant to 37 CFR 1.704(c)(7) this application is likely to issue with a revised patent term adjustment of zero (0) days).

It is concluded that the correct patent term adjustment at the time of the mailing of the notice of allowance mailed July 3, 2007 is zero (0) days, including 84 days of Office delay and 244 days of applicant delay.

Applicants' submission of the $200.00 fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.18(e) is acknowledged.

The application is being forwarded to the Publications Division for issuance of a patent. The patent term adjustment indicated on the patent (as shown on the Issue Notification mailed about three weeks prior to patent issuance) will include any additional adjustment accrued both for Office delay in issuing the patent more than four months after payment of the issue fee and satisfaction of all outstanding requirements, and for the Office taking in excess of three years to issue the patent (to the extent that the three-year period does not overlap with periods already accorded and to the extent that the period is not consumed by the filing of a request for continued examination).

Telephone inquiries specific to this matter should be directed to the undersigned at (571) 272-3219.
